

Editing and Proofreading

Underline and number the errors. Indicate the types of errors in the checklist by writing the error numbers.

Gavin was excited. He was going to the natural history museum with his mother. He had always wanted to go there but Mom hadn't had the time to go with him. The minute he walked through the giant doors of the musum, Gavin was in awe. The building was huge and there were many interesting exhibits.

Gavin was very interested in the exhibits. He had seen many interesting things in the museum. He had seen many interesting things in the museum. He had seen many interesting things in the museum.

When he was in the museum, he saw many interesting things. He had seen many interesting things in the museum. He had seen many interesting things in the museum.

While he was in the museum, he saw many interesting things. He had seen many interesting things in the museum. He had seen many interesting things in the museum.

and got to know the stories behind them. He particularly liked the crystal geode and meteorite exhibits. He remembered this trip for a long time.

- | | | | |
|--------------------------|----------------------|--------------------------|-------------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> | Spelling mistake | <input type="checkbox"/> | Usage of incorrect word |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | Capitalization error | <input type="checkbox"/> | Missing punctuation |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | Wrong tense | <input type="checkbox"/> | Missing article |