

Fact and Opinion

A true statement that can be proved or verified is called a fact.

An opinion is what a person thinks or feels, and it's not necessarily substantiated by proof. Different people can have different opinions.

Cut the sentence strips. Sort them into facts and opinions and glue them in the

Preview

Become a member to unlock unrestricted access to both printable and online worksheets.

www.tutoringhour.com

