

Phrasal Verbs

When we can separate the two words in a phrasal verb and insert the direct object in the middle, it's called a separable phrasal verb.

Example: He had proof to back up his theory.

He had proof to back his theory up.

Rewrite each sentence by separating the phrasal verb in it.

- 1) The company turned down the offer.

- 2) Alex paid back the entire amount to the customer.

- 3) They decided to called off tomorrow's match.

- 4) Ms. Clark had to spell out everything for me.

- 5) Please cut out the chase scene.
