

Making Predictions

Today is a snowy day, and Jay doesn't have to attend school. Jay wants to build a snowman, throw snowballs, and make a snow angel.

He puts on his snowsuit and then goes to the kitchen for breakfast. Mom says she needs to go to the store for milk. Jay is not allowed to play outside until Mom gets back. Mom leaves for the store. Jay could go outside while Mom is gone. She would not know. Jay peeks out of the window. The snow is fresh and white. It would be so much fun! Should he wait for Mom to return? What will Jay do? What do you think happens next?
