Producers, Consumers, and Decomposers

PRODUCERS	Producers are organisms that make their own food from sunlight, water, and carbon dioxide; they are also known as autotrophs.

Preview

Become a member to unlock unrestricted access to both printable and online worksheets.

www.tutoringhour.com

DECOMPOSERS	Decomposers are organisms that get energy by breaking down or eating dead plants and animals.