

Fall-Time Fun

A tall maple tree stood in the yard. Leaves fell from the tree. The leaves drifted through the air. They dropped to the ground below.

Luke liked the leaves that fell. He used a rake to make a pile of them. When he had a big pile, he jumped into it.

"What are you playing?" asked Kate. She lived next door.

"I'm playing in the leaves," said Luke. "Do you want to play with me?"

"Yes, I would like to play!" Kate replied. She picked up another rake and helped Luke make a new pile.

The pile of leaves became bigger and bigger. When they had raked all the leaves around the tree, they held hands.

"Let's jump on the count of three," Luke said.

Together, they counted. "One, two, three!"

Luke and Kate jumped. Leaves blew into the air. Luke and Kate laughed. Luke loved the fall-time fun.
