

Flying a Kite

Hudson stood on the grass in the park. He was excited because today he would get to fly a kite. Hudson had never flown a kite before. He could not wait!

Dad opened a package and pulled a blue-and-red kite from inside. The wind was blowing through the trees. There was just enough wind to make the kite rise into the air.

Dad showed Hudson how to tie the string to the kite. Hudson tied the string the way Dad showed him. He held the kite up high.

"Run forward with it," Dad said. "Let the wind catch it!"

Hudson did as Dad told him. He lifted the kite until he felt the wind catch it. He let go of the kite, and the wind lifted it high into the sky.

Dad quickly let out more string.

Hudson watched the red-and-blue kite in the sky. He loved flying a kite.

- Katie Clark

Flying a Kite

1) What is the story about?

2) Where are Hudson and his dad?

3) What are they going to do in the park?

4) What does Hudson do to help the kite fly?

5) Have you ever flown a kite?
