

Shift in Verb Tenses

Look at the underlined verb in each sentence. Change the second verb to match it and make the sentence tense-consistent.

1) If you were in New York City, why don't you call me?

2) Whenever I run out of money, I went to the bank.

3) Every Sunday, we wake up a little late and ate brunch outside.

4) Whenever he gets time off work, Uncle Jeremy took us to the park.

5) Although the team played five games, they hardly win any.

6) Barbara was hungry, so she makes an omelet.

Shift in Verb Tenses

Answer Key

Look at the underlined verb in each sentence. Change the second verb to match it and make the sentence tense-consistent.

1) If you were in New York City, why don't you call me?

If you were in New York City, why didn't you call me?

2) Whenever I run out of money, I went to the bank.

Whenever I run out of money, I go to the bank.

3) Every Sunday, we wake up a little late and ate brunch outside.

Every Sunday, we wake up a little late and eat brunch outside.

4) Whenever he gets time off work, Uncle Jeremy took us to the park.

Whenever he gets time off work, Uncle Jeremy takes us to the park.

5) Although the team played five games, they hardly win any.

Although the team played five games, they hardly won any.

6) Barbara was hungry, so she makes an omelet.

Barbara was hungry, so she made an omelet.