

Symbiosis

Identify the type of symbiosis described in each example and write it in the space given.

The viceroy butterfly has a coloration similar to that of the toxic monarch butterfly, which makes predators avoid both species, even though the viceroy is not toxic.

Preview

Become a member to unlock unrestricted access to both printable and online worksheets.

www.tutoringhour.com

fish keep watch for predators while the shrimp maintain the burrow, benefiting both species.

Cattle disturb insects in the grass while grazing. Cattle egrets follow them to catch the disturbed insects, benefiting without harming the cattle.
