Reading and Interpreting Scaled Bar Graphs

A research company in New York City conducted a survey among the city's tourists to find out their favorite place to visit. The findings are represented on the bar graph. Read and interpret the graph to answer the questions below.

Most Popular Tourist Destinations in NYC

Number of Tourists

150
140
130
120
110
100
90
80
70
60
50
40
30
20
10
0

1) How many tourists participated in the survey? _____

2) How many more people liked the Statue of Liberty than those who liked the 9/11 Memorial and Brooklyn Bridge combined? _____

3) For Times Square to be the top destination, how many more tourists should vote for it? _____

4) How many more people liked the Times Square than those who liked the Central Park and Wall Street put together? _____

5) Order the tourist places from most popular to least popular. _____

_____