

Food Puns

Read the food puns below and underline the words that produce pun.
Write the actual word/words to be used.

Example: John and Mary are mint to be together.

meant

1) Lettuce celebrate Christmas at Aunt Jenny's this year.

2) What I wouldn't give for some peas and quiet!

3) It's been a while, so let's meet for coffee and ketchup.

4) A hot meal is a great way for us to keep warm in this chili weather.

5) It is almost thyme to water my herb garden.

6) The dress fits you great, but it is just nacho color.
